Head Organisers

Dear delegates,

We are Teo and Mattia, the Head Organisers of the event, and we would like to welcome you to the Regional Session “Verona 2026” of the European Youth Parliament (EYP)! From the 22nd to the 25th of October, as you may have already guessed, we will gather in Verona together with around 120 young people from all over Europe to contribute, in our own small way, to shaping the world of tomorrow.

It is certainly an ambitious goal, isn't it? Throughout the days we will spend together, you will have the opportunity to discover how EYP events aim to shape the society of the future through three main pillars: civic education and active European citizenship; personal growth and the development of soft skills; and, above all, open, meaningful, and democratic dialogue with other youngsters.

During the session, you will engage with other motivated and passionate young people in discussions on some of the most pressing issues facing Europe today, with the aim of rethinking the role and approach that the European Union should adopt to respond to current challenges. In particular, the topics discussed in each committee will revolve around the motto: “Crafting Unity: weaving local traditions into Europe’s future.” With this motto, we aim to place at the centre of the Session the role of tradition, especially in a city like Verona, which has historically been a crossroads of people, cultures, and trade. Tradition should not be seen as an obstacle to progress, but rather as a valuable expression of the deep connection between territory, community, and history. It manifests itself in multiple dimensions: industrial (through SMEs and craftsmanship), cultural and artistic heritage, and economic structures.

In an era of increasing globalisation, these aspects pose both opportunities and challenges for the European community. It is therefore essential to reflect on a model of the European Union that is capable of embracing diversity while remaining cohesive and forward-looking.

RS Verona 2026 will be the first EYP event ever hosted in Verona, and we aim to expand our network in the city, as we believe it plays a key role in the national landscape (industrially, culturally, logistically, and historically). We would therefore love to build meaningful connections in the city with you, and it is our utmost pleasure to welcome you to Verona, where we look forward to sharing this amazing and long-lasting journey together.

Warm regards,
Teo and Mattia

WELCOME WORDS

Presidents

Dear delegates,

Welcome to the Regional Session of Verona 2026! We are very happy to welcome you to the journey that Verona 2026 will be.

We are Dorian and Pau, the co-presidents of this session. Together with our academic team, we are doing our very best to make this event impactful, meaningful, and unforgettable for everyone involved. We hope you are excited about the upcoming session and that you will enjoy the academic side of it as much as we do (in other words, a lot!)

Academics are here to help you understand Europe and EYP a little better. You will dive into important topics and explore how European policies and different stakeholders shape our societies. With the support of your chairpersons, you will discuss these challenges, exchange ideas, and work together to propose solutions. In a way, this is where you start shaping the Europe you want to see.

Academics might sound a little challenging at first, and sometimes it is, but don't worry. You will be surrounded by wonderful officials who once stood exactly where you are now, as delegates. We understand the experience and are here to guide and support you. As the academic team, our goal is to make the learning process engaging, accessible, and enjoyable as much as possible, so that by the end of the session you can all feel proud of what you have achieved.

And most importantly: academics can also be a lot of fun. Through debates, teamwork, unexpected games with your teammates, you will experience the EYP spirit: learning about Europe while meeting people from across the continent in a safe, open, and inclusive environment.

All in all, don't be afraid to challenge yourself. Verona 2026 is the perfect place to step out of your comfort zone, try new things, and grow. Enjoy the process, enjoy the people, and remember: you are here to learn, connect, and have fun.

We cannot wait to see what you will achieve.

Warmly,
Dorian & Pau

WELCOME WORDS

Editor

Dear Delegates,

Welcome to RS Verona 2026!

You are arriving at a session that asks something simple, but important: to look at where we come from, and to recognise that our differences are not obstacles to Europe's future, but the very roots from which it grows. Verona is a fitting place for that reflection, as it is a city shaped by continuity – by tradition, craft, and identity – yet always in conversation with the world around it. That balance between the familiar and the new, is the spirit I hope you will carry with you throughout the session!

Over the days of the session, you will spend a lot of time debating ideas, building compromises, and pushing your thinking beyond what feels comfortable and that is a big part of what makes an EYP session special. Still, I hope you will also remember that this experience is not only about the final output, but about the people you meet, the perspectives you encounter, and the small moments of connection that happen in between the formal parts of the programme. Some of your most valuable learning will happen in those spaces!

I want this session to be one where you feel encouraged to be bold, curious, and open. Ask the difficult questions; share the perspective that feels most personal to you; listen carefully to others, especially when their experiences are different from your own. The strength of EYP has always been that it brings together people who do not think exactly alike, and asks them to create something stronger than any one viewpoint alone. That is not always easy, but it is always worth it.

As the media team, we will be following the session closely and working to capture not only what happens, but what it feels like to be part of it. I hope you will enjoy the output we create, and even more than that, I hope you will feel encouraged to take part in it – whether through projects, interviews, conversations, or the small moments that help tell the story of this session. Your voices, energy, and personality will be a big part of what we create, and I would love for the media to feel like something you are genuinely part of, not just something made around you.

I am very excited to welcome you to this session and to see the ideas, energy, and personality you will bring into it. I hope you leave Verona not only having learned something, but having felt something too – a sense of belonging, challenge, and possibility!

A presto,
Amelia

WELCOME WORDS

Head of Jury

Dear Delegates,

Welcome to the Verona Regional Selection Conference!

I want you to take a moment and ask yourself: What are you hoping to find in Verona? Whatever it is, I want to challenge you to reframe that question. Think of it not with a perspective of a finder, but of a crafter.

You are the creator of your own story in Verona, a city that has shaped the stories of thousands before us. And it is not by chance that the session theme is Crafting Unity: Weaving Local Traditions into Europe's Future. We live in a time when the world needs more clarity, justice, and bold decisions. We need to look back into the past to rethink and define our future. Over the coming days, you will practice exactly those things by taking the unique threads of your own backgrounds and weaving them into shared, collaborative solutions of the future.

I know that the word "Jury" can sound a bit intimidating, but I want to share a secret with you. We aren't looking for the loudest voices or the most flawless facts; we are looking for the strongest threads in our shared tapestry. For delegates who are the bridge-builders in the committee rooms. The ones who show the most heart, ask the thoughtful questions, and actively go out of their way to weave the quieter voices into the conversation. Consider us your biggest cheerleaders. We are here to celebrate your breakthroughs, support you through the nerves, and ensure that your hard work—no matter how quiet—is seen and valued as an essential part of the whole.

Therefore, I invite you to be the most unapologetically you version of yourself. Bring your authentic self, be bold in your ideas, be kind in your collaborations, and above all, be present. I look forward to meeting every one of you and watching you rise to the challenge.

On behalf of the Jury Team, welcome to the session!
Khoren

Event Safe Person

Dearest Delegates,

I am Claudia Cacciola (she/her) one of the Event Safe People (ESPs) of Verona RSC. As you read this I hope you are excited for Verona RSC, a place to debate important topics and meet new people. Our job is to ensure that Verona RSC is a safe space for all participants, and ensure everyone's physical and mental well-being is looked after. This means we are here for any emergencies regarding your well-being or routine things you might need help with!

So feel free to reach out to us if you are ever stressed, experience or witness something uncomfortable, or simply want someone to talk to about things: either EYP related or completely random. No event is ever too big or small for a conversation, we will be easily accessible via text, phone call, Slack, or in the Safe Rooms at our venues.

We are excited to meet you in October and if you need anything before or after the session, we are always here.

See you in Verona!!

SESSION VISION

Crafting Unity: Weaving Local Traditions into Europe's Future

Globalization increasingly threatens the preservation of local knowledge and regional traditions, which are living expressions of the relationship between people, land, and nature. Verona's agri-food, wine, and marble industries represent a model of excellence deeply rooted in tradition. Today, these unique European production systems face growing pressure from globalization and international competition, bringing economic, social, urban, and cultural consequences.

At the same time, the European Union offers an opportunity to promote a new development model that strengthens local identity and values regional expertise. Tradition should not be seen as an obstacle to innovation; on the contrary, it can inspire sustainable and forward-looking solutions. Protecting intangible heritage and artisanal skills is essential for urban renewal and long-term resilience.

RS Verona 2026 addresses these challenges by engaging young people in the preservation and promotion of local traditions and knowledge, contributing to a more sustainable, competitive, and culturally aware European future.

ABOUT THE CITY

Verona is one of Italy's most beautiful and historically rich cities, located in the Veneto region along the winding Adige River. Known around the world as the setting of William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Verona combines romance, art, culture, and ancient history in a way few cities can match. Its charming streets, elegant architecture, and lively piazzas create an atmosphere that feels both timeless and vibrant, making it a favorite destination for visitors from around the globe.

The history of Verona stretches back more than two thousand years. Originally founded by ancient tribes before becoming an important Roman settlement, the city still preserves remarkable monuments from the Roman era. The most famous of these is the Verona Arena, a massive amphitheater built in the first century AD. Even today, the Arena remains a center of entertainment and culture, hosting internationally renowned opera performances and concerts beneath the open sky. Walking through Verona is like stepping through different periods of history, as medieval castles, Renaissance palaces, and Roman ruins stand side by side throughout the city.

One of Verona's greatest attractions is its romantic identity. Millions of tourists visit the city each year to see Juliet's House, which features the legendary balcony connected to Shakespeare's tragic love story. Although the story itself is fictional, the location has become a symbol of love and devotion. Visitors leave letters on the walls and gather beneath the balcony to celebrate romance and hope. This connection to literature has helped give Verona a magical and emotional character that distinguishes it from many other Italian cities.

ABOUT THE CITY

Beyond its literary fame, Verona is also celebrated for its artistic and cultural importance. The city's historic center, recognized as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is filled with narrow cobblestone streets, lively cafés, and elegant squares such as Piazza delle Erbe and Piazza Bra. Churches like the Basilica of San Zeno display extraordinary examples of Romanesque architecture, while museums and galleries preserve centuries of Italian art and heritage. Verona's cultural life remains active throughout the year with festivals, music performances, and traditional celebrations that attract both locals and international visitors.

Food and wine are another essential part of Verona's identity. The surrounding Veneto countryside is famous for vineyards and high-quality wines, including Valpolicella and Amarone. Restaurants throughout the city serve traditional dishes that reflect the rich culinary traditions of northern Italy. From fresh pasta and risotto to fine cheeses and regional wines, Verona offers an authentic Italian dining experience that complements its historic beauty.

Today, Verona successfully balances modern life with its ancient past. It is not only a tourist destination but also a thriving city where people live, work, and study among historic surroundings. The combination of romance, history, architecture, and culture makes Verona one of Italy's most unforgettable cities. Whether admired for its Shakespearean legacy, its Roman monuments, or its lively atmosphere, Verona continues to capture the hearts of all who visit.

STRUCTURE OF THE SESSION

Every session follows a structured programme designed to guide participants through collaborative and educational activities. Throughout the event, delegates are supported by their chairperson and work closely with the members of their committee.

Team Building (TB)

The first stage of the session focuses on team building activities. Through exercises based on communication, empathy, and cooperation, participants are encouraged to get to know one another and develop strong group dynamics. The objective is to create international teams capable of working together effectively in order to produce a high-quality collective outcome.

Committee Work (CW)

The second phase is dedicated to committee work. During this part of the event, delegates discuss the selected topic in depth and cooperate to draft a common resolution. Guided by the chairperson, participants engage in peer learning, critical thinking, negotiation, and debate, aiming to reach shared decisions through discussion and consensus.

General Assembly (GA)

The session concludes with the General Assembly, which simulates the procedures of the European Parliament. In this final stage, committees present and defend their resolutions before all participants. The debate includes speeches, questions from the audience, and a final vote that determines whether each proposal is accepted or rejected.

VENUES

DAY 1 & 2 - TB & CW

Istituto Tecnico Statale Cangrande della Scala

Corso Porta Nuova 66, 37122 Verona

Located in the very heart of Verona, along the elegant Corso Porta Nuova and within walking distance of both the Arena and the city's railway station, the Istituto Tecnico Statale Cangrande della Scala has deep roots in the educational and professional history of the city.

Its story began in 1941, when a specialised section for surveyors was established within the Istituto Tecnico Commerciale A. M. Lorgna. The present school building was constructed in 1958, and continued growth eventually led to the establishment of the independent I.T.S.G. Cangrande della Scala in 1971.

DAY 3 - GA

Istituto Lavinia Mondin

Via della Valverde 19, 37122 Verona

The Institute was founded in 1941 by the Sorelle della Misericordia, at a particularly difficult moment in European history. Its creation responded to a concrete social need in the city: offering access to education to girls from less privileged backgrounds, for whom opportunities for secondary schooling were still limited. From its very origins, therefore, the Mondin was conceived not simply as a place of instruction, but as an institution capable of using education as a means of social and personal advancement.

The Institute was officially recognised in 1948, and in the following decades gradually developed alongside the changing needs of Italian society. A particularly important stage came in 1982, when the Mondin joined two experimental programmes promoted and supervised by the Italian Ministry of Education: the Liceo Scientifico Biologico-Sanitario and the Liceo Linguistico. Further experimentation followed, including the creation of a European linguistic programme in 1994-95, continuing a process of educational development that had begun more than fifty years earlier.

ACCOMMODATION

HOTEL MAXIM - Via Carlo Belviglieri, 42, 37131 Verona VR

Hotel Maxim is a modern 4-star hotel located in a quiet residential area of Verona, not far from the historic city centre. The hotel is well connected to the city and offers a comfortable base for participants during the event.

The hotel provides spacious private rooms, free Wi-Fi throughout the building, air conditioning, minibar, TV, and private bathrooms equipped with either a bathtub or shower, hair dryer, and courtesy set.

Participants will stay in shared rooms, all equipped with private bathrooms and essential facilities. Bed linen and towels will be provided.

HOW TO REACH VERONA

Since venues are to be decided, we will provide you with some general information on how to reach Verona. Verona is located in northern Italy and is easily accessible by several means of transportation thanks to its central position between Milan and Venice.

By Plane

The city is served by Verona Villafranca Airport (Valerio Catullo Airport), located about 12 km from the city centre. The airport offers connections with many European and Italian cities. From the airport, Verona can be reached by:

- Shuttle bus to Verona Porta Nuova railway station
- Taxi services
- Car rental services

Nearby international airports also provide convenient access:

- Venice Marco Polo Airport
- Milan Bergamo Airport
- Bologna Airport

By Train

Verona Porta Nuova is one of the main railway stations in Italy and is connected by high-speed and regional trains.

Main connections include:

- Milan: approximately 1 hour 15 minutes
- Venice: approximately 1 hour
- Florence: approximately 1 hour 30 minutes
- Rome: approximately 3 hours

International trains also connect Verona with Austria, Germany, and Switzerland.

HOW TO REACH VERONA

By Car

Verona is well connected through the Italian motorway network:

- A4 Motorway: Milan – Verona – Venice
- A22 Motorway: Brenner – Verona – Modena

The city can easily be reached from northern and central Europe through the Brenner Pass. Parking areas are available around the city centre, while the historic centre has limited traffic zones.

By Bus

Several international and national bus companies operate routes to Verona from major European and Italian cities. Long-distance buses are often an affordable option for students and groups.

Local Transportation

Once in Verona, visitors can move easily by:

- Urban bus network
- Taxi services
- Bicycle rental
- Walking, especially in the historic centre

The city's compact structure makes most attractions accessible within walking distance.

GENERAL INFORMATION

What you will need

All necessary materials for the session will be provided. However, we strongly encourage participants to bring a laptop or tablet whenever possible, in order to help reduce the environmental impact of the event. To further support sustainability, we also recommend bringing your own reusable bottle, cup, or mug to help minimise plastic waste during the activities.

Dress Code

The different moments of the session will require different dress codes, however these are guidelines rather than strict rules.

During Team Building, we would suggest comfortable clothes, as you will participate in activities requiring movement.

For the Committee Work, smart casual clothes are required, as you'll be working on your resolution.

Finally, the General Assembly requires a formal dress code: suits & ties, blouses and blazers are welcome, while jeans should be avoided.
